

2009

Pro Comp Suspension is proud to announce the release of the new Level Lift suspension system for the much anticipated 2009 Ford F-150. This easy to install system raises the front end of the new F-150 for a proper level stance and allows fitment of larger size tire and wheel combinations up to 35-in tall. Each kit is constructed of heavy duty steel and features a durable black powder coat finish for the ultimate corrosion protection and lasting good looks. This precision engineered product is on the shelf and shipping so get your orders in today!
